

Chicago Hospitals

driving and walking distances from Chicago's Garfield Park hospitals

The area comparison graph calculates the driving distances in the y-axis and walking distances in the x-axis using a basis of five minutes in both cases. The isochrone map points to ten hospitals within the Garfield Park neighborhood of Chicago, an area known for a high number of physical violence and gun shot victims, and measures the distances able to be traversed. As shown, in areas with proximity to a large park and commercial zone, the furthest distance able to travel is relatively shorter compared to areas without these conditions yet these areas contain more hospitals.
